Inclusive... not intrusive

Open-plan offices can present a problem. How do you get some privacy, in order to think clearly, knuckle down to work, or have your own phone conversation, not someone else's? One answer lies in low profile partitions. Making economical but ergonomic use of space, GALANT allows colleagues to have a heads up, or a heads down. It paves the way for both individual thought, and collective thinking. We say it creates an ideal environment in which to grow your business. And your office plants.

01 VOLMAR swivel chair with headrest

£175

If you have a KOLON floor protector under your chair, you can roll back and forward to your heart's content without wearing the floor out.

Where's your head at?

For Archimedes, it was in the tub. But you don't have to overflow the bath water to get your own eureka moment. Find inspiration for ideas and creative projects in a tailor-made space, designed to soothe or stimulate your mind, as you prefer. Sometimes, it's nice to work on your own, no noise, no disruptions. Other times, you prefer to play your favourite music. Loud. The inner beauty of a personalised space is that it allows you to think. Why say om, when you could say IKEA? Visit IKEA.co.uk/BUSINESS for more inspiration.

A woman's work is never done

When you're running a business, coming in after a hard day at the office, there is always going to be some job that you need to finish off. Files you need to keep, accounts you need to do, emails you just haven't had time to deal with during the day. But this is your home, so an office layout needs not to be intrusive. IKEA designs coordinate perfectly with home furnishings, so you can create a relaxing but efficient environment in which to keep one eye on the business, and one eye on the kids. And one hand on the popcorn.

Home economics

You may not have masses of space in which to set up your home office, so designs which are economical in their footprint could be the way to go. But good things come in small packages, with space for computers, storage, stationery and all the necessary accoutrements of working from home.

Workstations with neat cable storage, pull-out sections that tidy away when you've finished for the day. Ergonomic design that keeps you comfortable. There's a host of styles from which to choose, so your office area can be as officey or as homey as you like. IKEA BUSINESS experts are on hand at the store to help and advise, and you'll also find plenty of inspiration and our easy planning tool online at IKEA.co.uk/officeplanner

A great place to hang out

It's nice to have a change of scenery during the working day. Experts recommend looking away from your computer regularly, and getting up and moving about, once an hour. It's good for your circulation, and increases alertness. People work better when there's somewhere nice to "take 5", to eat lunch or enjoy a coffee with colleagues. A place to bounce ideas around or catch up on the news. And in business, two heads are better than one.

Every one's job is important

Each of our lights is designed to do a particular job, and do it well. We make work lamps to give you light right where you need it on your desktop, ceiling lights to get the right general level throughout the workplace. Then you can add in lamps for background lighting, or for creating ambience. What the Swedish call "mysljus". Which is a rather nice way of saying cosy lighting.

Our LED lights consume up to 85% less energy and last 20 times longer than ordinary light bulbs.

Tell us what you want, what you really, really want!

It's your business, and you know how you want it to function. At IKEA.co.uk/officeplanner you can draw and plan your dream business premises in 3D. The planning tool makes it easy. You can try different products and layouts, change colours, add things in or take some away. How many desks will fit into the office? How long can the shop counter be? Is there room for a cupboard in the customer loos? When you've designed your masterpiece, print out the drawing and your product list, or save it to the IKEA server so you can discuss it with our sales department at IKEA BUSINESS! We're here to help. Just click on IKEA.co.uk/BUSINESS

You can do it all yourself. But you don't have to!

Running your own business means that you are often stuck for time to do things yourself. We're here to help you with everything you need to furnish your business premises, from choosing your new furniture to taking it to where you want it, and assembling it on site. Your wish is our command! Ask our expert staff at your local IKEA store or visit IKEA.co.uk/services

Picking and Delivery Service

If you love to come and get business furnishing inspiration in our stores, and want our furniture products but are not so keen on fetching them from the shelves yourself, then why not leave the picking and the delivery to us. Just order and go!*

*Applies to furniture items only. Ask in store for more details.

Delivery Service

Most IKEA products are flat-packed and designed in such a way that they are easy for you to take away yourself. However, we can arrange same day/next day<sup>**</sup> delivery for you within the store delivery area at a great price. Just enquire at an info desk to check if your postcode falls inside the store delivery area, and for prices for deliveries outside this area, if applicable. Terms and conditions apply.

Assembly Service

To give the very best value, most IKEA products are designed in such a way that they can be assembled easily by the customer. However, if you prefer, you can leave the assembly of your purchase to our professional, independent partners† in your area for a competitive price. This service includes a free 1-year workmanship guarantee and disposal of packaging in an environmentally friendly way.

†Our stores in Edinburgh and Cardiff have a different local service offer. For more information, please see in store.

Office planning tool

Start by planning your business set-up in 3D. The office planning tool makes it even easier now. Then, print the drawing and product list, or save it to the IKEA server so you can discuss it with our sales department at IKEA BUSINESS! ## We love LEDs and so does our planet!

LED bulbs use up to 85% less energy to produce the same amount of light as standard light bulbs. They also last 20 times longer (about 20 years). By choosing LED fittings, you'll save electricity, because lighting is the single biggest consumer of electricity in the home. (Apart from the average teenager).

With LEDs, you won't need to replace your lightbulbs so often. All in all, that means less expense, and less waste. Good news for your finances, great news for the planet. You can find out more about how we can create a better future, on our web site, by going to People and Planet at IKEA.co.uk
