Which VYSSA crib mattress is the right one for your baby? Start by asking yourself, which type of mattress do you sleep on? To help you, we have broken down the decision making process into three easy steps, so that you can feel completely confident that the mattress you take home is the best one for your baby.

A high standard of accuracy has been sought in the preparation of this brochure. We apologize for, but will not be bound by or responsible for, errors and omissions in this brochure.

HOW TO CHOOSE

STEP 1: CHOOSE YOUR MATERIALS

Choose between spring, latex or foam. All materials are safe and hygienic or course, and both sides of the mattress can be slept on, which prolongs the life of the mattress. If you are unsure which to choose, ask, what type of mattress do you prefer to sleep on?

Spring: VYSSA spring mattresses are made with either pocket springs or Bonell springs and have a protective wadding of foam and felt. The spring construction allows air to flow freely, promoting good air circulation and a favourable sleeping climate.

Latex: We use only synthetic latex in VYSSA latex mattresses, because babies may be allergic to natural latex. Synthetic latex is extremely durable and provides additional pressure relief for extra comfort and a hygienic sleeping environment for your baby.

Foam: VYSSA foam mattresses use polyurethane foam. They are well fitting, durable and have pressure-relieving qualities that provide your growing baby with good support and a favorable sleeping climate.

Covers: All VYSSA covers are removable, machine-washable and well ventilated to allow air to circulate throughout the mattress. Together that creates a hygienic sleeping environment for your baby. Some VYSSA mattresses have jersey or velour covers, which are extra soft against your baby's skin

STEP 2: IDENTIFY INDIVIDUAL NEEDS

Time

How many years do you think you will use your crib mattress? If you want to use the same mattress into the toddler years, a thicker and more durable mattress will provide better support for older babies and toddlers, who like to stand and bounce in their cribs.

Added benefits

All VYSSA crib mattresses are firm and promote good air circulation, which help create a safe and hygienic sleeping environment. Beyond this, some crib mattresses are made from materials with special qualities that contribute to increasing your baby's sleeping comfort in different ways:

- Air circulation: All VYSSA crib mattresses promote good air circulation, but some materials like egg-carton foam, springs and latex provide exceptional air circulation. If this is especially important to you, you should choose a mattress with these materials.

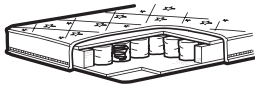

- Pressure relief: All VYSSA mattresses provide pressure relief, but some materials, like pocket springs and latex, provide more precise support for your baby's body.

- Initial softness: Crib mattresses must be firm to provide a safe sleeping environment for babies. A mattress with a quilted cover fulfills these safety requirements, but feels softer against your baby's skin. Think of it as like placing a blanket on the floor to make it more comfortable for the baby to be on.
